

The Catch-22 of Communication, Careers, and Caregiving

Join us for an insightful discussion featuring Kim Akass and Anne Demo as they explore the challenges of balancing communication, careers, and caregiving in modern society, drawing from their academic work and personal experiences. This event will offer fresh insights into the complexities of caregiving, professional life, and media representation.

KIM AKASS

Professor of Radio, Television, and Film at Rowan University

Author of Mothers on American Television: From Here to Maternity

SCAN FOR FULL BIO

ANNE DEMO

Penn State School of International Affairs: Student Support Specialist

Co-Editor of The Motherhood Business: Consumption, Communication, and Privilege

SCAN FOR FULL BIO

Monday, September 30, at 1:00 P.M. EST.

Free and open to the public.

Center programming is open to all, regardless of gender identification.

Register now go.rowan.edu/womenincommCareersCaregiving

Co-sponsored by:

QR Code Registration:

